Stalin urges Union govt to release funds for Centrally sponsored schemes early

Chennai, Feb 18 (UNI) : Tamil Nadu Chief Minister M K Stalin on Tuesday urged Union Minister of Women and Child Development Ms Annapoorna Devi to release funds for the Centrally Sponsored Schemes (CSS) within the stipulated time frame to enable the State Government to implement the welfare schemes more efficiently.

In a Demi-Official letter to Ms Devi, copies of which were released to the media here, he also sought her early intervention from you in this regard.

He referred to her letter dated January 31, 2025, which said a sum of Rs.716.05 crore is lying unspent in the SNA accounts as on January 29, 2025 under the CSS viz., Mission Saksham Anganwadi and Poshan 2.0, Mission Shakti and Mission Vatsalya. Stating that all welfare schemes are being implemented efficiently in Tamil Nadu and the State Government's contribution to the CSS are released in a time bound manner, the Chief Minister said it was pertinent to point out that most often, the Centre's share is being released only at the fag end of the quarter or in the subsequent quarters.

Among the total SNA account unspent balance of Rs.576.22 crore, the major share of Rs. 409.17 crore is in the Mission Saksham Anganwadi and POSHAN 2.0, for which the release for the 4th quarter of the year 2023-2024 was done only on March 26, 2024. Similarly, in respect of Mission Vatsalya and Mission Shakti, major chunk of the fourth quarter release for the year 2023-2024 has happened only during April and May of 2024.

"You may appreciate that it is not possible to utilize such huge amounts within the closure of the financial year and hence the funds have to be carried over to the next financial year 2024-2025", Mr Stalin said, adding, the cascading effect of the above trend is observed in every quarter. He said as regards, Pradhan Mantri Mathru Vandhana Yojana (PMMVY), the total budgeted amount is Rs. 304.00 crore of which the Central Share is Rs.184.00 crore (60%) and the State share is Rs.120.00 crore.

"As per the guidelines of PMMVY Scheme, the State share shall be deposited after credit of the Central Share. However, for the last two years (2023-2024 and 2024-2025), not even a single release has been done towards the Central share", he pointed out.

"As on date, an amount of Rs.30.65 crore is available in the SNA and this amount could not be credited to the beneficiaries due to API issues", the Chief Minister said.

Pointing out that out of the Rs.576.22 crore available in the SNA Accounts as on date, it was expected that a sum of Rs.482.80 crore will be utilized before the end of this financial year and the balance, along with the Union Government's share to be released will be carried forward to the next financial year.

SC grants bail to Christian Michel in AgustaWestland case

New Delhi, Feb 18 (UNI) The Supreme Court on Tuesday granted bail to British arms consultant, Christian James Michel, in the case registered by the Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI) in connection with the AgustaWestland chopper scam.

Michel had filed a Special Leave Petition challenging the Delhi High Court's September 25, 2024, order that denied him bail.

A bench, comprising Justices Vikram Nath and Sandeep Mehta, granted bail on the condition that Michel must renew his passport and subsequently surrender it.

During the hearing, the matter was initially taken up in the morning but was deferred as the CBI's counsel sought additional time. When the Court expressed its inclination to grant bail, the CBI contended that Michel's plea was based on medical grounds. The Court postponed the hearing until after lunch, at which point it questioned the prolonged delay in trial proceedings.

Justice Nath asked the CBI counsel, "Why do you want him in custody after six years? You have filed a chargesheet, and the investigation is complete."

The central agency responded that Michel was extradited to India, to which Justice Nath remarked, "What about the trial? You haven't even started the trial." Justice Mehta further stated, "It is your duty as the prosecutor. Who stopped you for the past six years?"

Michel's counsel, Advocate Aljo K Joseph, argued that the investigation was still incomplete and that the authorities continued to rely on international documents while placing the burden of delay on the accused.

The CBI requested the matter be heard on Friday to seek instructions on the status of the investigation and whether it intended to continue. However, the Court clarified that Michel would be granted bail, and the CBI could proceed with its investigation independently. Justice Mehta observed, "At this rate, you won't be able to conclude the trial even in the next 25 years."

In its order, the Court noted, "Considering the facts and circumstances of the case, particularly that the petitioner was extradited in 2018 and has been in custody for more than six years, and that the CBI has filed three chargesheets and two supplementary chargesheets while the investigation remains ongoing, we are inclined to grant bail on conditions determined by the trial court. The CBI may request the trial court to impose necessary conditions before his release."

Michel was arrested in December 2018 following his extradition from Dubai. He is accused of acting as a middleman in alleged illegal transactions related to the VVIP chopper scam.

The CBI has alleged that the deal, signed on February eight, 2010, for the procurement of VVIP helicopters worth $556.262 million, caused an estimated loss of $398.21 million (approximately Rs 2,666 crore) to the Indian exchequer. The Enforcement Directorate (ED) had filed a chargesheet against Michel in June 2016, alleging that he received $30 million (around Rs 225 crore) from AgustaWestland.

Advocates Sreeram Parakkat and M S Vishnu Shankar also represented the petitioner in the case.

Navika Sagar Parikrama II: INS Tarini reaches Port Stanley

New Delhi, Feb 18 (UNI) : The Indian Naval Sailing Vessel (INSV) Tarini entered Port Stanley on Tuesday, completing the third and most challenging phase of Navika Sagar Parikrama II, a pioneering expedition showcasing the resilience, courage, and skill of the Indian Navy's women officers. This marks a significant milestone in the vessel's journey of circumnavigating the globe. During the phase, the vessel experienced three cyclones, while passing through Point Nemo, known as the Oceanic Pole of Inaccessibility, an Indian Navy statement said. They also passed through the treacherous waters of Drake Passage before crossing Cape Horn.

The Navika Sagar Parikrama initiative underscores the Indian Navy's commitment to gender empowerment and maritime excellence. The expedition, crewed by two women officers, aims to promote ocean sailing, self-reliance, and India's rich maritime heritage. Their experiences serve as an inspiration for young aspirants, encouraging greater participation of women in maritime and defence sectors. INSV

Tarini embarked on its ambitious journey from Goa, navigating challenging sea conditions across the Indian, Atlantic, and Pacific Oceans. The vessel's safe arrival at Port Stanley is a demonstration of India's growing maritime reach and commitment to fostering global goodwill through Naval diplomacy.

The team is expected to interact with the local community, sharing insights about their voyage and India's Naval traditions. Following its stop in Port Stanley, INSV Tarini will continue its expedition, sailing through to Cape Town before returning to India.

Muslims condemn Waqf Board order on century-old Mumbai Minara Masjid

Mumbai, Feb 18 (UNI) : Days after the Maharashtra Board of Waqf approved the appointment of a new board of trustees to take over the management of century-old Minara Masjid, one of the most important mosques in the city, the Muslim community and political parties, including Samajwadi Party, have condemned the decision.

The iconic Minara Masjid at Mohammed Ali Road is a prominent landmark of the financial capital of the country.

The community as well as political outfits have slammed Junaid Sayed, the chief executive officer of the Waqf Board, for his unlawful and arbitrary step which can be template to involve other mosques in similar controversies.

The development comes at a time when the Waqf (Amendment) Bill, 2024 introduced by the BJP-led NDA government at the Centre, is still to become an Act. Samajwadi Party state president and MLA, Abu Asim Azmi, flagged the issue and is expected to raise the issue during the forthcoming budget session of the Maharashtra legislature and also move the Bombay High Court.

"It is an illegal order appointing new non-Memon community trustee in the more than a century-old Minara Masjid in Mumbai and violates the trust deed," Azmi said.

It is a complete arbitrary order as it has come without hearing the present trustees and non-Memons can't be appointed in the trust. The Minara Masjid Trust is a trust established under a scheme framed by the Bombay High Court in the year 1879. Thereafter, the Trust was transferred to the Bombay Charity Commissioner after the enactment of the Maharashtra Public Trust Act, 1950, bearing registration number B-331. Since then, the Trust is being governed as per the Maharashtra Public Trust Act, 1950 and is in the nature of English Trust and hence the State Waqf Board does not have any jurisdiction to pass such an order. The allegation against the present trustees is that they have sold 83 properties unlawfully and illegally is totally false and frivolous. The trustees have taken consent from their 83 tenants of their chawl and are desirous of developing the said chawl after obtaining required no-objection certificate (NOC) from competent authorities.

Azmi said that he will personally visit the Minara Masjid shortly and will discuss the issue with prominent religious scholars such as Hazrat Khalid Ashraf, Hazrat Moinmiyan, Maulana Zahiruddin Khan Saheb and Saeed Noorie and decide the course of action.

NGT Flags rising faecal bacteria levels in Ganga at Prayagraj during Maha Kumbh

New Delhi, Feb 18 (UNI) : The National Green Tribunal (NGT) has expressed serious concerns over increasing faecal bacteria levels in the Ganga at Prayagraj, particularly during the Maha Kumbh Mela. The findings were highlighted in a recent report submitted by the Central Pollution Control Board (CPCB). The key findings submitted by the CPCB report indicate that a significant rise in faecal coliform bacteria was observed during the Maha Kumbh Mela. According to the report, the river water quality failed to meet bathing standards concerning Biochemical Oxygen Demand (BOD) during tests conducted on January 12-13. The water quality also did not conform to primary bathing standards regarding faecal coliform at multiple monitoring points.

The surge in faecal contamination was directly linked to the massive influx of pilgrims, especially on auspicious bathing days.

Despite the operational status of Sewage Treatment Plants (STPs), contamination levels spiked sharply during the Shahi Snans and other major rituals. The report emphasised that the sudden and overwhelming number of devotees taking a holy dip overloaded the existing waste management infrastructure, leading to an exponential rise in bacteria levels. Inadequate sewage disposal mechanisms and improper waste handling were also cited as contributing factors to the declining water quality.

In response to the alarming pollution levels, the NGT, led by Justice Prakash Shrivastava (former Chief Justice of Calcutta High Court), has summoned officials from the Uttar Pradesh Pollution Control Board (UPPCB) to explain the measures taken to control water pollution.

The tribunal had earlier directed the UPPCB to submit a detailed compliance report, but the board only provided water quality test results, which confirmed high faecal contamination. Dissatisfied with the partial response, the NGT has granted additional time for submission of a comprehensive report and mandated the presence of key UPPCB officials in the next hearing scheduled for February 19. The monitoring of water quality and sewage treatment at Prayagraj has been under strict NGT oversight since December 2024.

Indian graduates show strong aptitude for AI, ML roles

Indian graduates are demonstrating a strong aptitude for roles in the fields of Artificial Intelligence (AI) and Machine Learning (ML), according to a report.

The report by talent assessment firm Mercer Mettl showed that Indian graduates had a 46.1 per cent employability rate in the fields of AI and ML -- the highest among all technical roles.

The report, encompassing data from more than 2700 campuses and over 1 million learners, reveals a complex landscape of both promising adaptability and persistent skill gaps.

It also found that 50 per cent of graduates in India possess soft skills needed for AI/GenAI collaboration, but they needed improvement in creativity (44.3 per cent employability).

Communication skills (55.1 per cent), critical thinking (54.6 per cent), and leadership skills (54.2 per cent) were found to be strong areas. With a 46 per cent employability rate, learning agility is vital for navigating the evolving tech landscape.

Further, the report showed that Tier 1 college graduates are the lead in employability (48.4 per cent), followed by Tier 2 (46.1 per cent) and Tier 3 (43.4 per cent) institutions, but the potential exists across all tiers, especially in specialised tech areas. Tier 2 college graduates were found to excel in UI/UX developer roles (58.3 per cent employability).

Delhi showed the highest employability (53.4 per cent), followed by Himachal Pradesh and Punjab (51.1 per cent). Uttarakhand and Jharkhand also performed well (50 per cent and 49.6 per cent respectively).

Notably, the report found equal employability for male and female graduates in AI and ML sectors as well as in data science, but disparities were seen in software testing.

"In 2025, the employability rate for Indian graduates stands at 42.6 per cent, reflecting a slight decline from 44.3 per cent in 2023, primarily due to evolving industry expectations.

However, there has been significant progress in employability for technical roles as colleges and students increasingly focus on developing skills that meet market demands," said Siddhartha Gupta, President of Mercer India. "On the other hand, the development of certain non-technical and soft skills presents a more complex learning curve, often requiring additional time to cultivate. This data clearly underscores these trends," he added.

Supreme Court slams Allahabadia for using

New Delhi, Feb 18 (UNI) : The Supreme Court on Tuesday expressed its angst with the language used by YouTuber Ranveer Allahabadia during an episode of the online show India's Got Latent, calling it "dirty" and "perverted." and barred him and his associates from airing any shows till further orders.

The top court, however, granted Allahabadia - popularly known as Beer Biceps - interim protection from arrest in connection with multiple FIRs filed in Mumbai, Guwahati, and Jaipur over the alleged obscene remarks made by him during the particular episode of the YouTube show. A division bench comprising Justices Surya Kant and N Kotiswar Singh instructed Allahabadia to surrender his passport as part of the conditions of relief.

The court issued the interim order while seeking a response from the authorities on Allahabadia's petition challenging the multiple FIRs.

The court also directed that no further FIRs be registered concerning the same YouTube show. However, the relief is conditional upon Allahabadia - popularly known as Beer Biceps - cooperating with the investigation. Additionally, the bench granted him the liberty to seek police protection in case of threats.

The court ordered that Allahabadia and his associates refrain from airing any shows until further orders.

Despite granting interim relief, the apex judiciary harshly criticised Allahabadia's language, calling it "dirty" and "perverted", and said "there is something dirty in his mind".

Justice Kant confronted Allahabadia's counsel, Advocate Abhinav Chandrachud, questioning, "Are you defending this kind of language?"

In response, Chandrachud admitted that he found the remarks "disgusting" but argued that the issue at hand was whether they amounted to a criminal offence. He cited the Apoorva Arora judgment, which held that profanity alone does not constitute obscenity.

However, Justice Kant remained unconvinced, stating, "If this is not obscenity, then what is? Does the Apoorva Arora judgment give a licence to say anything?"

The bench also engaged in a discussion over the multiple FIRs lodged against Allahabadia. When Chandrachud argued that multiple FIRs for the same offence were legally untenable, citing the TT Antony case, Justice Kant countered that the nature of the complaints differed, with one FIR specifically concerning alleged derogatory remarks about Arunachal Pradesh. The court expressed serious disapproval of the YouTuber's statements, stating, "There is something very dirty in his mind, which has been vomited in this programme... He is insulting his parents. Why should courts favour him?"

Championing social justice : The role of the railway protection force

(Standard Post Bureau)

The World Day of Social Justice is celebrated every year on the 20th February. It has been started by the UN to create awareness that even today, there are many people who are unable to get an equal opportunity to lead a better life. The aim of the event is to promote fairness. Fairness means equal access to the same standards or education, health care and all public services. This access must be fair ie no person should be denied access merely by reason of caste, race, religion, gender or class. Social justice refers to the equitable distribution of resources, opportunities, and privileges within a society. Every year this day is celebrated with a view to raise awareness and promote practical solutions to address the issues of poverty, exclusion, gender inequality and social injustice.

In the context of India, the Indian Railways which is one of the largest railway networks in the world weaves an intricate matrix of connectivity across the length and breadth of the country.

With its railway lines reaching out to some of the remotest parts of the country, it provides the most accessible and inexpensive method of travel to many people. This tangled web of railway lines unites all Indians into one single thread. In the vast expanse of its trains and stations, millions of Indians irrespective of caste, race, religion, gender or class meet, intermingle and bond. The Railway Protection Force (RPF) plays a pivotal role in ensuring the safety and security of all these passengers.

The very essence of social justice lies in ensuring that all individuals have equal access to rights, resources, opportunities and protection. It encourages fairness, inclusivity and the dismantling of barriers that hinder the right to equal opportunity. Social justice is not just legal fairness, it also involves access to social goods such as health, education, employment and above all, security. Within this broad framework, the role of various institutions, including law enforcement agencies is vital in ensuring that no individual is denied equal access to these services. In this context, the role of agencies like the Railway Protection Force is crucial in maintaining not just security of railway property and passengers but also in upholding the social justice that is the basic right of every individual.

The Railway Protection Force (RPF) is an armed force of the Union entrusted with the responsibility of securing the country's vast railway network.

Beyond the enforcement of law, the RPF plays a crucial role in the broader concept of social justice by ensuring that the rights of vulnerable populations are respected, protected, and upheld within its specific sphere of influence.

The Indian railway system serves millions daily, with a significant portion being women, children, senior citizens, and individuals from marginalized communities.

The RPF stands as a shield for these vulnerable passengers, protecting them from crimes such as theft, harassment, and even violence. By ensuring their safety, RPF works towards a more equitable and just society, where all individuals can travel without fear.

The RPF has been proactive in safeguarding the rights of every passenger during travel on the railways. This includes ensuring equal treatment for people with disabilities. The RPF has been conducting relentless drives in coaches reserved for persons with disabilities and prosecuting regular passengers who encroach upon the facilities provided for them. In the year 2024, RPF, has prosecuted 95,175 such people.

Another vulnerable group of passengers traveling on Indian Railways are women passengers. By proactive deployment in coaches reserved for ladies, RPF has ensured the safety of female passengers, especially when traveling at odd hours. To make women passengers feel safer, RPF regularly prosecutes men traveling in coaches reserved for women. In the year 2024, RPF has prosecuted 1,02,130 such male passengers. RPF has launched the "Meri Saheli Initiative" with its focus on women passengers traveling alone.

There are more than 250 Meri Saheli teams who are instrumental in providing a safer environment for female passengers.

Similarly, RPF has undertaken an initiative called Operation MatriShakti to assist pregnant women who go into labour during train journeys. In the year 2024 alone, lady RPF personnel have assisted in 174 childbirths.

RPF has launched Operation AAHT to ensure that women and children do not fall prey to human trafficking. RPF personnel actively collaborate with other law enforcement agencies to rescue trafficked individuals, especially those who are being exploited for forced labour or prostitution. In the year 2024, RPF has rescued 826 persons from the clutches of traffickers through Operation AAHT.

There are several lost or abandoned children in contact with railways who are in need of care and protection.

If such children are not rescued or rehabilitated there is a high probability that they will fall prey to drug peddlers and criminal gangs.

Through Operation Nanhe Farishtey, RPF rescues such children and ensures their rehabilitation in collaboration with Ministry of Women and Child Development. RPF has rescued 14,756 children through Operation Nanhe Farishtey in the year 2024.

RPF lady personnel also play a crucial role in rescuing adults, including women, in need of care and protection.

These individuals may be runaways, abandoned elderly, drug addicts, destitute, or needing medical assistance. RPF rescues such individuals and hands them over to NGO's for rehabilitation. In 2024, RPF has rescued 4,047 people through its Operation Dignity.

Thus RPF has been proactive in safeguarding the rights of vulnerable communities and ensured that Indian Railways provides an equally accessible space to all the people irrespective of caste, race, religion, gender or class. During the Covid pandemic, RPF provided food to thousands of labourers who were stranded and ensured safe return to their homes following the due pandemic protocols. RPF proudly boasts of having the largest share of women personnel amongst all CAPFs today. The RPF's consistent efforts in providing safe journey to passengers coming from all strata of society without discrimination align with the broader global goal of social justice.

From tackling petty crimes to protecting passengers from terrorism, RPF's commitment to the cause of social justice is unwavering. The RPF exemplifies how law enforcement agencies can not only uphold the law but also contribute to building a more just society by reaching out to the most vulnerable classes, preventing discrimination and extending a helping hand to the weaker sections of the society.

A sustained effort towards achieving these goals will be essential as India and Indian Railways in, particular navigates through a socially diverse landscape ensuring that the benefits of development and security reach all citizens uniformly.

Russian FM says U.S. can help resolve Ukraine conflict

Moscow, Feb. 18 (UNI) : Russian Foreign Minister Sergei Lavrov said Monday that the United States could help resolve the Ukrainian conflict, citing its "central role" since the fighting began nearly three years ago.

Lavrov's remarks came ahead of his meeting with U.S. representatives, set for Tuesday in Saudi Arabia. The Kremlin said the two sides are expected to hold talks on negotiating an end to the conflict, which would pave the way for a meeting between U.S. President Donald Trump and Russian President Vladimir Putin.

Lavrov said that he does not expect the Europeans to have a seat at the negotiating table, accusing them of seeking to use a potential ceasefire to enable Ukraine to continue the conflict.

He added that Moscow rejects any discussions on territorial concessions to Ukraine during potential negotiations. The United States had previously urged both Russia and Ukraine to make concessions for peace. Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelensky said Monday that Kiev will not attend the upcoming U.S.-Russia negotiations, refusing to accept any result that excludes Ukraine.

Jerusalem, Feb 18 (UNI) : Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu has ordered immediate implementation of a law banning the activities of the United Nations Relief and Works Agency for Palestine Refugees in the Near East (UNRWA), the prime minister's office said.

Chinese military warns off Philippine aircraft from territorial airspace over Huangyan Dao Guangzhou, Feb 18 (UNI) : Naval and air forces of the Chinese People's Liberation Army Southern Theater Command on Tuesday tracked, monitored and warned off a Philippine C-208 aircraft from the territorial airspace over China's Huangyan Dao in accordance with the law and regulations, a Chinese military spokesperson said. "Without the approval of the Chinese government, the Philippine aircraft illegally intruded into Chinese airspace," according to Tian Junli, spokesperson for the theater command, who added that the Philippine side had also spread false narratives. The acts of the Philippine side severely violated China's sovereignty as well as international law and Chinese law, Tian noted. Huangyan Dao is China's inherent territory, and the Philippines' attempts to assert illegal territorial claims through military provocations and mislead international understandings through agitation and hyping will ultimately prove futile, according to the spokesperson.

EU wants to create new fund for military aid to Ukraine : Reports

Warsaw, Feb 18 (UNI) : The European Union wants to create a new fund for military aid to Ukraine, Polish website money.pl reported.

The creation of the fund will be discussed by ambassadors of EU member states on Tuesday, the fund may be established this year, the publication said. It is noted that the main goal of creating this fund is "to meet Ukraine's most pressing defense needs, such as artillery ammunition, air defense systems and support for the Ukrainian defense industry."

According to the publication, the fund should be filled from two sources: contributions from member states, which will be proportional to their national income, that is, taken into account on the same principle as contributions to the EU budget, as well as profits from frozen Russian assets, estimated to be up to 900 million euros this year.

It is noted that the new initiative provides for a "flexible approach to spending funds" aimed at "respecting the status of some EU countries, for example, those that maintain neutrality in military matters."

Among the priority areas of the fund's activities are the supply of large-caliber artillery ammunition

(at least 1.5 million shells), the supply of air defense systems and long-range missiles, training and equipping the Ukrainian army. It is emphasized that participation in the initiative should be voluntary, since past experience shows that otherwise some EU states, such as Hungary, could veto it. After the start of the Russian special operation in Ukraine, the EU and the G7 countries froze almost half of Russia's foreign exchange reserves, approximately 300 billion euros. More than 200 billion euros are in the EU, mostly in the accounts of the Belgium's Euroclear, one of the world's largest clearing and settlement systems.

The Russian Foreign Ministry has repeatedly called the freezing of Russian assets in Europe theft, noting that the EU is targeting not just private funds, but also Russian state assets. Russian Foreign Minister Sergey Lavrov said that Moscow would respond to the confiscation of frozen Russian assets by the West and also had the opportunity not to return the funds that Western countries kept in Russia.

Russia believes that arms supplies to Ukraine hinder the settlement, directly involving NATO countries in the conflict.

Musk unveils latest AI model Grok 3

San Francisco, Feb 18 (UNI) U.S. billionaire Elon Musk's artificial intelligence company, xAI, officially released its latest flagship AI model, Grok 3, on Monday night. Grok 3, claimed by Musk as the "smartest AI on Earth," can analyze images and respond to questions like OpenAI's GPT-4o and Google's Gemini, and serves as the core AI model powering various features on his social media platform X.

According to Musk, Grok 3 was trained at a massive data center in Memphis, Tennessee, which houses approximately 200,000 graphics processing units, and was developed with 10 times the computing power of its predecessor, Grok 2. It is a "maximally truth-seeking AI," said Musk during a live-streamed presentation.

AI claims that Grok 3 outperforms OpenAI's GPT-4o across math and science problem-solving benchmarks, such as AIME and GPQA.

Additionally, xAI has introduced two specialized models, Grok 3 Reasoning and Grok 3 mini Reasoning, designed for complex problem-solving. These models function similarly to "reasoning" models like OpenAI's o3-mini and DeepSeek's R1.

To prevent distillation, a technique to extract knowledge from an existing model, Musk mentioned that certain aspects of Grok's reasoning process are intentionally obscured.

Turkey informs US of readiness to host talks on Ukraine

Ankara, Feb 18 (UNI) : Turkish Foreign Minister Hakan Fidan told US Special Presidential Envoy for Russia and Ukraine Keith Kellogg and US Secretary of State Marco Rubio on the sidelines of the Munich Security Conference that Ankara was ready to host peace talks on Ukraine, the Turkiye daily reported on Tuesday.

Fidan also met with Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelensky's chief of staff Andriy Yermak and Defense Minister Rustem Umerov. He told the Ukrainians that Turkey wanted to be part of the peace process. The top Turkish last week. They discussed issues related to the exchange of Russian and US citizens, as well as the settlement of the conflict in Ukraine.

The call was followed up by in-person talks between senior Russian and US officials in the Saudi capital of Riyadh on Tuesday.

Sudanese govt says 433 killed in attacks by paramilitary forces

Khartoum, Feb 18 (UNI) : Sudan's government on Tuesday said that 433 civilians were killed in attacks by the paramilitary Rapid Support Forces (RSF) on villages in White Nile State. "After the RSF militia realized its crushing defeat and its inability to face (fight against) the armed forces, it resorted to its usual method of revenge against unarmed civilians in villages and small towns," Sudan's Foreign Ministry said in a statement.

"In the past few days, the militia carried out a horrific massacre in the villages around the al-Gitaina area in White Nile State, with the death toll currently standing at 433, including infants," the ministry added.

It called on the international community to take a firm stance against the RSF's "crimes" against civilians, nothing, "This massacre reaffirms that the militia's war is against the entire Sudanese people." While the RSF has not yet commented on the incidents, the Sudanese Emergency Lawyers, a non-governmental organization, reported multiple attacks over the past three days in three villages, including Al-Kadaris, Al-Khalwat, and Wad Bilal, all located near al-Gitaina, about 100 km south of Khartoum.

"These attacks have resulted in the deaths of over 200 people, including women and children, with hundreds injured and missing," the group said in a statement. Sudan has been gripped by a devastating conflict between the Sudanese Armed Forces and the RSF since mid-April 2023, which claimed more than 29,680 lives, according to the latest estimates by international organizations.

Israel confirms killing Hamas military official in Lebanon

Jerusalem, Feb. 18 (UNI) Israeli forces killed a Hamas military official in an airstrike in Lebanon, Israeli security officials said on Monday.

In a joint statement, the Israeli military and Shin Bet domestic security agency said warplanes "struck and eliminated" Mohammad Shaheen in Sidon, a coastal city in southern Lebanon.

The statement identified Shaheen as "the head of Hamas' Operations Department in Lebanon" and accused him of recently planning attacks against Israeli civilians from Lebanon under Iranian direction and funding. It also described him as a "significant source of knowledge" for rocket attacks from Lebanon.

Al Mayadeen, a Lebanon-based pro-Hezbollah broadcaster, reported that an Israeli drone strike targeted a car at the entrance to Sidon.

Video footage circulating on social media showed a vehicle on fire on a highway, with a black cloud of smoke rising from it. The strike comes a day before Israel is scheduled to complete its full withdrawal of troops from Lebanon under a ceasefire agreement that ended 14 months of fighting between Israel and Hezbollah. The Feb. 18 deadline was set after Israel and Lebanon agreed to postpone the original late-January deadline. However, Israel now insists on maintaining troops in five positions in southern Lebanon beyond the new deadline.

Employee tips Enhance your employability

HONE YOUR PERSONALITY

With institutes churning out graduates in large numbers, the emphasis today is on soft skills. These skills, which include one's business and cultural etiquette, dressing sense, body language and coordination skills, make a huge difference during a job interview. Concur Sushma Rana, talent director, MSL group, "Organisations evaluate prospective candidates not only for their professional skills, but also behavioural traits. This is very often done by subjecting them to real-life situations that bring out a person's interpersonal and team management skills along with their ability to handle stress. As the selection process involves overall personality evaluation, pursuing a programme on personality development can be of much help."

Adds Swapnil Kamat, founder, CEO and chief trainer, Work Better, "What employers actually mean when they say, "Engineer required, MBA preferred," is that they are looking for candidates with a certain set of skills, character traits and attitudes. These include organisational skills, ability to follow instructions and meet deadlines, critical thinking skills, writing and communication skills, research skills, and so forth."

PURSUE AN INTERNSHIP

Internships are an important stepping stone in the process of enhancing one's credentials as they provide one an opportunity to apply the theoretical knowledge gained during a degree programme to real-life industry situations. They are a platform for students to gain a realistic view of personal growth objectives and understand their strengths and weaknesses in an organisational context. Agrees Kamat, "Potential employers look at your experience before your qualifications to assess your employability. Hence, pursuing a summer internship during a degree course can hugely increase your employability prospects."

LEARN A NEW

LANGUAGE

Employment mobility has increased as opportunities have expanded across the globe. Thus, it is not uncommon to come across people who do not mind moving cities and even countries in search of a better job. Keeping this in mind, learning a new language can give the much needed boost to your profile. Additionally, with companies continuously trying to increase the diversity of their teams, working knowledge of a foreign language is considered an asset by hiring managers.

CREATE A GOOD ONLINE IMAGE

Employers these days very often use your public profiles as a tool to assess your personality. Thus, it is crucial to create and maintain a positive image on social media. Advises Rana, "Appropriately frame and add relevant details which you want the employers to focus on, on websites that require you to put up your professional profile. Testimonials from your current as well as ex-colleagues also matter. Your presence on social media by means of an interactive resume also helps. Also, joining the right groups and associations too can improve your chances of employability."

It is well known that merely a good degree cannot ensure one employment. To land a job in today's competitive market, you need various technical as well as soft skills that can give you an edge above the rest. Here is what you need to do to enhance your portfolio and increase your chances of bagging that dream job:

KEEP LEARNING

Continuous education is important in today's job market. Training and education show potential employers that you take your professional life seriously. Opt for weekend courses, enrol for a distance learning, online programme or a MOOC (massive open online course) to expand your knowledge base and increase your employability.

VOLUNTEER

Get involved in extra circular activities that offer the platform to develop various skills and that add to your CV. Learn to work as a team and help the community. As a student, one can be part of the student council or volunteer with NGOs and clubs. This will not only highlight your compassionate nature, but also instil a positive attitude and self confidence within you.

BE WILLING TO MOVE As businesses expand, mobility is an important factor for companies. So be open to shifting to another city for a good job. While most people do not want to move out of their comfort zone, taking a chance on relocation can lead to unthought-of career growth and new opportunities.

Flexible working hours make workers happy

The study found that people who become overworked are less satisfied with their lives and experience lower levels of psychological well-being.

The key factor to happiness, according to the study, was whether the hours people work reflect the hours they want to work.

The study, published in the journal Human Relations, examined the working time patterns and well-being levels of 20,000 individuals over an 18-year period.

The researchers found that more than 55 percent of workers who regularly work 50 or more hours a week would like to work less, as would around 40 percent of workers who work between 40 and 49 hours a week. "When workers are overworked - working more hours a week than they would like -- life satisfaction and psychological well-being deteriorate," said lead researcher professor Andy Charlwood.

"Thankfully, most workers who experience overwork are able to rearrange their lives so that the hours they work and the hours they want to work come back into balance." But around one in eight workers who become overworked are in the same situation two years later, and this appears to be a significant source of worry and unhappiness.

"To help protect our well-being levels, government and employer policies need to give workers greater flexibility to choose the hours that they work," Charlwood explained.

Mom alone and proud of it

More and more women are opting for single motherhood. TOI explores the trend she added.

After Anindita's story was highlighted by the media, her doctor Biju Singh started receiving cases every month. This growing demand for IVF was corroborated by gynaecologist Dr Gautam Khastgir. "People from all strata of society are coming in for IVF, especially after knowing that it is an easy procedure. Society, too, has accepted it whole-heartedly. I get approximately two patients every month," he said. Dr Khastgir said most of his patients were women who hadn't found the right man yet or wanted a child after divorce or lesbian couples desiring babies.

Government employee Kalidasi Halder, 55, who had a daughter through IVF last December, said, "I am unmarried, but wanted to become a mother. Though I dilly-dallied for two-three years fearing societal reactions, after giving birth, I realized that there were two types of people — those who looked away, and those who welcomed us with open arms. My colleagues not only took me to the hospital, but also got me discharged and looked after us. Yes, support was less, but it wasn't non-existent."

"I think it's very important for girls to be financially independent to take such a step," Kalidasi added. City schools, too, are equally open to accepting children of single mothers. Ranu Biswas, headmistress of the primary section of Bharatiya Vidya Bhavan, said, "We still haven't received any application for admission of a child of a single mother. But if I do, such children would be treated on a par with other students." Sunita Sen, principal of The BSS School, added, "We welcome children of single parents. A child is a child, whether he has one parent or both. Our only concern is quality parenthood — whether the mother can give the child proper attention."

Being a teenager can not only turn out to be stressful for your kid, but even for you.

to back off and respect his/her privacy. Giving your kid his/her space will ensure that he/she turns into an independent adult.

Be a friend more than a parent

At this age, your kid is looking more for a friend in you rather than a strict parent. "Often, parents have tears in their eyes when they come to me seeking help because their child is not talking to them. You need to be patient. Take interest in your kid's friends and if you are objecting to any particular behaviour of your kid, give a reason," says Chheda.

Dos and don'ts when dealing with a teen

Dos

- Listen to your kid
- Encourage sharing
- Share your experiences to guide them
- Keep a non-threatening atmosphere at home
- Take interest in his/her friends
- Bond with your child by doing things he/she likes
- Be patient
- Set a good example

Don'ts

- Preach your kid
- Snap at them
- Ridicule or judge them
- Be a neglecting parent
- Hate them for their mistakes

A parent's

guide to dealing with a teen

While you've lived through your kid's 'terrible twos' that involved him/her crying for hours in the night, dealing with a teenager can lead to anxious times for many parents. This is the time when your child goes through hormonal changes, leading to physical as well as behavioural changes. This is also a time when peers take over a more important role in your child's life leaving you feeling neglected. Says child psychologist Niru Chheda, "Teenage is a very sensitive period and parenting a teenager is very difficult, especially in today's times where the kids are exposed to the world through technology." Here's your guide to dealing with your kid's teen years.

Start early

There's no point telling your daughter about menstruation once she gets her first period. This would only make her press the panic button. Instead, start earlier. Answer the early questions that your kid has about his/her body, the difference between boys and girls or where do babies come from. This will also stop your kid from surfing the internet trying to find answers.

Listen to your kid

According to Dr Pavan Sonar, the most common mistake parents make is that they often judge their kids. They expect their child to act like an adult at this age and ridicule him/her for the smallest mistake. Dr Sonar says, "Parents should listen to what their kid has to say."

Don't pressurise

"Parents set standards for their child by talking about the things they used to do when they were of their kid's age. This is likely to add additional pressure on your child. Instead, it is important that you understand today's generation and set realistic expectations," says Chheda.

Empathise

If you are unable to understand your kid's situation as a parent, put yourself in his/her shoes. Understand that your teen is going through emotional stress and accept the fact that what may not be a big deal to you could be an issue for your child.

Communicate

A free, two-way communication between parents and kid is most important. Engage in activities that involve bonding with your child, be it going for movies or dinners together. Working parents, especially, find it difficult to spend sufficient time with their kid and this may lead to lack of communication. "A friendly environment will encourage your kid to share his/her worries with you. A parent's job is to show the right path in those situations, in non-authoritarian way," says Dr Sonar.

Respect privacy

While it is important to monitor what your child is upto, it is equally essential to know when

Namibia names squad for Rugby WC 2027 prep match against South African team

Windhoek, Feb 18 (UNI) : Namibia's Rugby Union (NRU) Tuesday announced its 30-man squad that will face the Boland Cavaliers, a South African rugby union team, here on Saturday.

The match is part of Namibia's preparations for the 2027 Rugby World Cup, and Danco Burger will captain the side, with Jason Benade serving as vice-captain. The country's rugby governing body confirmed that the game will be played behind closed doors as the nation continues to mourn its founding president, Sam Nujoma, whose state funeral is scheduled for March 1.

"In the world of sports, and more specifically in rugby, Dr. Nujoma's legacy reminds us of the transformative power of teamwork and community. Rugby is a sport deeply intertwined with our national identity, fostering camaraderie and mutual respect among players and supporters alike," the NRU said in a tribute statement Tuesday. Meanwhile, in January, the NRU outlined the national team's preparations for the Africa Cup in July, a crucial step towards qualifying for the 2027 Rugby World Cup.

One of the key warm-up matches will be the match against the South African regional side Boland on February 22 in Windhoek, followed by two matches against the Blue Bulls, a South African professional rugby union team, the first on June 17 at a coastal venue to be announced and the second on June 21 in Windhoek.

Real Madrid favorite to reach Champions League last 16

Madrid, Feb 18 (UNI) : Real Madrid entertains Manchester City in the second leg of its Champions League play-off for a place in the last 16 at the Santiago Bernabeu on Wednesday night, after the defending champion won away in the first leg. Madrid has a 3-2 lead in the first leg after two late goals a week ago saw it take advantage of some chaotic defending from its rival, who had twice led thanks to goals from Erling Haaland. Manchester City appeared to return to form at the weekend with a 4-0 win at home to Newcastle United, with recent signings Nico Gonzalez and Omar Marmoush giving some new life to Pep Guardiola's side. Marmoush scored a first-half hat-trick, while Gonzalez helped bring the balance to the City's midfield that has been missing since Rodri suffered his cruciate knee ligament injury.

Guardiola was keen to stop any over-enthusiasm after the match, saying his team had just a "one percent" chance to overturn last weekend's defeat, and he will be without injured Manuel Akanji for the game, while Jack Grealish and Nathan Ake are also doubts after being forced out of last week's defeat due to injury.

Real Madrid goes into the game after a 1-1 draw against Osasuna which has seen the club yet again complain about refereeing decisions going against it, after Jude Bellingham was sent off for allegedly swearing at the referee.

The good news for Carlo Ancelotti is that his injury crisis in defense looks to be easing, with Antonio Rudiger and David Alaba both in with a chance of taking part on Wednesday.

Aurelien Tchouameni and Raul Asencio have both performed well in defense in recent games and could continue, while in attack, Kylian Mbappe, Vinicius Jr and Rodrygo will be ready to pounce on any errors from the City midfield and attack at pace.

Last week both sides showed they are able to score goals, but in the end Manchester City's leaky defense was the decisive factor, if Nico Gonzalez can give City more stability in midfield, the visitors have a slight chance of overturning Madrid's lead, but Real Madrid is clear favorite to reach the last 16.

Spain defeat India 4-3 in FIH Hockey Pro League

Bhubaneswar, Feb 18 (UNI) : Spain secured a 4-3 victory over India in the FIH Hockey Pro League 2024/25 (Women) at the Kalinga Stadium here on Tuesday.

Baljeet Kaur (19'), Sakshi Rana (38'), and Rutaja Dadaso Pisal (45') scored for India, while Estel Petchame (25', 49'), Sofia Rogoski (21'), and Captain Lucia Jimenez (52') netted goals for Spain.

Sakshi Rana and Jyoti Singh received their maiden senior international caps in the match, with the former scoring an impressive goal on her debut.

The first quarter was tightly contested. India had an early chance when Rutaja passed the ball to Sharmila Devi from the left, but her shot narrowly missed the post. Spain attempted to play their signature free-flowing hockey but struggled against India's defensive press. In the ninth minute, India earned the first penalty corner of the evening, but the opportunity was squandered as the ball struck Sushila Chanu's foot while she was receiving it. Towards the end of the quarter, Spain had a significant chance when Florencia Amundson unleashed a powerful shot, but Indian goalkeeper Savita made a fine save to keep the score level.

The match opened up in the second quarter, with three goals scored in a span of six minutes. In the 21st minute, Deepika drifted wide and fired a reverse hit from the left, which was perfectly deflected into the goal by an unmarked Baljeet, marking her first senior international goal.

Two minutes later, Spain equalized as Rogoski's powerful reverse shot from close range slipped past Savita and found the net. Spain then took the lead in the 25th minute when they earned their first penalty corner, which was successfully converted by Petchame. Just before half-time, Spain received another penalty corner, but Captain Lucia Jimenez's shot went too high.

India dominated the third quarter, reclaiming the lead. In the 38th minute, debutant Sakshi Rana won the ball from Jimenez near the circle, created an opportunity for herself, and fired a shot on target to equalize.

In the final minute of the quarter, Deepika made an impressive solo run down the left flank, dribbling past defenders and beating the goalkeeper before passing the ball to Rutaja, who finished confidently restoring India's lead.

Spain applied pressure early in the fourth quarter, winning a penalty corner in the opening seconds, but Constanza Amundson's shot went wide. Moments later, in the 49th minute, Spain won another penalty corner. Amundson's initial shot was blocked by an Indian defender, but the ball fell to Petchame, who struck it past an outstretched Savita to score her second goal of the evening.

Spain reclaimed the lead for the second time in the 52nd minute when Captain Jimenez fired a backhand shot from inside the edge of the circle, placing it perfectly into the bottom right corner.

In a desperate attempt to find an equalizer, India played without their goalkeeper for the last four minutes of the match. However, Spain held their defensive shape and secured a narrow victory.

Maharashtra men dominate, Karnataka joins party in National TT

Indore, Feb 18 (UNI) : Maharashtra reigned supreme in the team events at the UTT 31st Masters National Championships here on Tuesday at the Abhay Prashal Indoor Hall, claiming multiple gold medals and showcasing their depth of talent across various age categories on the second day.

However, Karnataka A emerged victorious after Maharashtra withdrew from the round-robin league of the Men's 80+ division. Delhi A, which suffered its only defeat against Karnataka, secured the silver medal, while Telangana and Gujarat A climbed the podium to share the bronze. Maharashtra's absence from this category cleared the way for the remaining teams to battle it out, with Karnataka ultimately standing tall.

In the Men's 75+ final, Maharashtra A delivered a commanding performance, defeating Chandigarh A 3-0 to clinch the gold. The duo of Satish B. Kulkarni and Sampat Pinakin outclassed their opponents, Patanjali Kumar and Balbir Singh Virdi, in straight games in the singles rubbers, setting the stage for an equally dominant doubles victory. The Maharashtra pair then teamed up to secure another clean 3-0 win in the doubles match, underlining their superior skill and coordination. Earlier in the semifinals, Maharashtra faced a stern challenge from Gujarat, edging past them 3-2 in a tense contest, while Chandigarh eased to a 3-1 win over Tamil Nadu to set up the final clash. Maharashtra's winning streak continued in the Men's 70+ category, where they blanked Delhi A 3-0 to add another gold to their tally.

Jitendra Mavanai gave the team an early lead with a straight-game win over Vineet Chaudhry, delivering a composed and clinical performance.

Shivanand Kundaje then battled against Suresh Kumar in a gruelling five-game match, ultimately prevailing in the decider to put Maharashtra within touching distance of gold. The doubles pair of Percy Mehta and Jitendra sealed the victory, overcoming a slow start to take the next three games and complete a perfect sweep. Earlier, Maharashtra had outclassed Karnataka 3-0 in the semifinals, while Delhi had to dig deep to edge out Madhya Pradesh 3-2 in an intense encounter. The Men's 65+ team continued Maharashtra's dominance with another comprehensive 3-0 triumph over Delhi A in the final. Jayant Kulkarni opened proceedings with a strong 3-1 win, recovering from a tight opening deuce game to overpower Ashutosh with aggressive and controlled play. Avinash Joshi secured a 3-1 triumph over Anil Kumar, maintaining Maharashtra's momentum. In the third tie, Umesh Kumbhojkar faced stiff resistance from Narender Singh but managed to find his rhythm, taking control in the final stages to wrap up the contest. Maharashtra bested Tamil Nadu 3-1 in the semifinals, while Delhi secured their place in the final with a hard-fought 3-1 victory over West Bengal.

JN Stadium of Meghalaya 'one of the best football grounds in country': Gawali Shillong, Feb 18 (UNI) Intensive behind-the-scenes preparations are being undertaken by the Meghalaya government and Meghalaya Football Association as Shillong gears up to host two international football matches featuring the Indian senior men's team in March.

On Tuesday, India's team Assistant Coach, Mahesh Gawali inspected the JN Stadium and practice ground at North-Eastern Hill University.

The All India Football Federation confirmed earlier this month that the JN

Stadium will host two India international matches next month – a FIFA friendly against Maldives on 19 March and an AFC Asian Cup 2027 qualifier against Bangladesh on 25 March.

Gawali lavished praise on the renovated JN Stadium, calling it "one of the best football grounds" in the entire country as he examined the lush green pitch, stands, and changing rooms. Work is still going on to improve the practice ground and Gawali and the MFA, represented by its Vice-President Cliff Nongrum, discussed the possibility of installing portable changing rooms, etc. Gawali opined that a practice ground with permanent facilities would make Shillong the complete package for football of international standard. India has been drawn in Group C of the AFC Asian Cup 2027 qualifiers' final round, alongside Hong Kong, Singapore, and Bangladesh.
